

WOMEN IN AVIATION, INTERNATIONAL (WAI) AUSTRALIAN CHAPTER

2018 National Conference

Women in Aviation, International (WAI) is a national non-profit organisation dedicated to providing networking, education, mentoring and scholarship opportunities for women (and men) who are striving for careers in the aviation and aerospace industries. Our national chapter is one of many international subsidiaries of our U.S. headquartered WAI organisation, comprising of over 12,000+ worldwide members including astronauts, pilots, engineers, air traffic controllers, entrepreneurs, educators, consultants, students, airport managers and many others.

The WAI Australian chapter is currently offering partnership support opportunities for our annual Australian conference being held on the 28-30th September 2018 at the Hunter Valley, NSW.

In order to provide tangible resources and opportunities, we rely on the generosity and support of community partnerships. As a partner for our largest bi-annual event, you will help expose women and men of all ages to the career opportunities in the aviation and aerospace fields.

Women are still underrepresented in the aviation and aerospace sectors, with many facets of the industry still unknown to the younger generation. WAI Australia believes that education is the key to changing perceptions in the industry and to assist with the shift of gender imbalance we intend to share knowledge and encourage participation into STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering & Mathematics) pathways for the next generation of industry leaders.

With the generous support of your business, we will work towards achieving our goal of raising more awareness of women in aviation and aerospace, and give valuable support and mentoring to those interested in pursuing a career in these fields.

The Australian Chapter is the most recently established chapter and has seen an overwhelmingly positive response by way of industry acceptance and corporate sponsorship and engagement. This has propelled our plans and enabled us to grow our outreach nationally. Our dedicated committee, all of whom are active members working in various facets of the industry, are working hard to ensure we utilise this momentum to make a positive impact in Australian aerospace. We know that as Australians we too have some of the world's leading experts and pioneers working in our aviation industry to continue to see us thrive on the international stage. It is thanks to these very inspiring people that we see a growth in participation and the need to foster the next generation of women in the aerospace sector.
